From the desk of our Executive Director Anita Bowen

When the devastating hurricanes landed this fall, many had to pack up quickly and could only take a minimum of items with them as they evacuated before the storm hit. This got me to thinking...if I had to leave my home in an emergency evacuation situation, what would be on my “must have” list? My hand-crafted scrapbooks and treasured photo albums. My jewelry items that have been handed down from loved ones no longer with us. My Bible. Handmade quilts and blankets that have special meaning to me. My pillow. My son’s baby book. Our wedding unity candle. Pieces of pottery that I love. My Purdue diploma. My cell phone. Security box with important papers and computer back-up drive. Our dog...yea, even this one that likes to knock me down in the snow! It’s a long list, and the other people in my family are going to need to fit things in the vehicle(s), too.

It kind of gets a little overwhelming to think about this scenario, but some of you have gone through situations like Hurricane Florence or Michael, and you have incredible stories to tell. You have memories, and you have been able to share them with others through the years. Memories are a wonderful way to get to know each other and to build relationships. And, in the end, even if we are not left with a single item like those listed above, if we have our memories and each other, we are rich.

I hope that many of you were able to visit BCSSI during our special signing week in September to share some of your favorite BCSSI memories from the past 40 years, but if you didn’t and you would still like to do so, please stop in before the end of the year! We’re packing up all of our memories for a time capsule to be opened many, many years down the road when the agency celebrates yet another landmark anniversary!

As we get ready to close out our 40th Anniversary, memory-filled year, I want to say thanks for staying connected to BCSSI during 2018. Whether your favorite way to stay connected is through Senior Sounds, or through meals that we share in Lebanon and/or Zionsville; or if you prefer to connect on a van or bus as we travel throughout Boone County and beyond, or via any of the other programs and activities that we offer, we enjoy getting to know YOU! Our slogan remains “Connecting the Generations Since 1978,” and we are ever grateful for the relationships that we have with you and your family members, and we sure hope that your holiday season is filled with loads of warmth and happiness.

Until Next Time, Anita

Thank you and congratulations to Judy Brower, Direct of Volunteers, for more than 10 years of service with BCSSI. We will miss Judy as she leaves BCSSI to spend more time with family. Pictured is Judy (left) with Barb Carrell who was recently hired to take Judy's position. Both ladies have been working diligently as Judy trains Barb so a smooth transition will take place upon her departure. Thank you and congratulations to Judy and Barb!

A HUGE thanks to the Farmers Bank "We Care" Team for sprucing up and cleaning around BCSSI. We are so grateful for your willingness to give back to our community through helping BCSSI.

Thank you to the Women of Impact Fund Boone County for choosing BCSSI to receive the third quarter donation of $11,190. BCSSI is thankful for this special gift and we will use it wisely to support our mission. The Women of Impact Boone County is coordinated by the Community Foundation of Boone County.

Juanita Kavon was the winner of a ride in a firetruck with the Zionsville Fire Department after participating in Coffee Connection "Sip & Learn" sponsored by Copper Trace. Pictured with Juanita is ZFD Deputy Chief, Brian Miller, and EMS Division Chief, Steve Gilliam. Turn to page 10 for more information about "Sip & Learn".

Lunch & Learn on the Road had a wonderful adventure as they traveled to Fair Oaks Farm in September. Thank you to Copper Trace for sponsoring this trip. The group's last trip of the year in October traveled to Wick's Pies located in Winchester. Thank you to AseraCare Hospice for making this trip possible! Thank you to all who attended a Lunch & Learn on the Road in 2018! We are looking forward to more fantastic trips in 2019!

Congratulations to Boone Area Transit Drivers Marty Lane, Sue Rogers and Bob Walker for receiving their Master Driver's Award from "RTAP", Rural Transit Assistance Program!

Welcome to Jo Lynn Horlacher who recently joined the BATS team as a driver.

Participants enjoyed 'Muffins & Masterpieces' this fall as they learned to paint a beautiful fall painting with the assistance of art instructor Shirley Luttrell. Turn to pages 9 & 10 for details on attending one of our art classes! Thank you Homewood Health Campus for making the special day possible!

BCSSI Travel Group is planning two trips in 2019! The group will travel to Virginia Beach and Williamsburg June 16-22 and Nova Scotia September 9-21. Check back in the Jan/Feb Senior Sounds for more information.

Thank you travel participant Margie Niles for your kind words...
*These trips have really kept us active and something to look forward to.
 Seniors need this motivation to keep healthy physically and mentally!
 Dan Warkentien (travel group leader) keeps us informed with history lessons along the way...even gives us quizzes to keep us awake on the bus! We love him and his sweet wife Judy! Love and gratitude!*

Educating & Empowering Caregivers

Survival Kit for the Caregiver

presented by: Lisa Cangany, Purdue Extension Educator

Caring for the needs of older adults who are unable to care for themselves is hard. More than 44 million Americans provide care to someone over the age of 50 and most do not feel prepared for this role. Walk away with some tips for the caregiver to use to survive during these challenging times.

Legal Basics for Caregivers

presented by: Anna Howard, Managing Attorney Severns & Howard Pathfinders in Elder Law

The best time to plan ahead for long term care needs is before your loved one needs it. One day, your loved one won't be able to manage their own legal matters or make their own health care decisions and will rely on you to act in their best interests. Planning ahead and having the proper legal documents in place before a crisis occurs allows for your loved one and your family to stay in control of critical decisions.

Caregiving: When Stress Leads to Depression

presented by Dr. Christopher Dull MD, JD, Psychiatrist

While caring for a loved one, it's especially important that you also take care of yourself. If left unchecked, the stress you may be experiencing can lead to depression.

“Supercharge Your Caregiving”

Caregivers are superheroes. Managing medications. Getting to doctor appointments. Balancing work and home. How can family caregivers handle it all? Even superheroes need tools! Thankfully, new caregiving tools can help lighten the load.

Think Safety First

If your elderly loved one is aging at home, safety and security is your first priority. You can't be there with them every minute of the day. But all sorts of gadgets can help keep them safe, maintain their independence, and relieve some of your worries. Wearable sensors can monitor a patient and contact family members if their loved one falls or if an emergency occurs. Smart homes and smart locks can help, too.

Unlock the Power of Medical Records

Information is power, and caregiver access to online patient medical records is getting easier and more powerful every day. With online patient portals you can get your loved one's health and insurance information how and when you need it. Join the millions of family caregivers who have already accessed their loved one's online medical records to improve care.

Master the Medications

One of your most important daily responsibilities is managing medications making sure they are taken properly and on time, getting refills, and watching for side effects. Your loved one may have more than one illness and have to take several medications. Tech tools are an easy, safe way to track your loved one's meds and make caregiving a bit less stressful.

Unleash the Power of Apps

Caregiving is overwhelming and you simply can't do it all by yourself. Luckily, there are many apps and tools that can help caregivers do almost anything from A to Z. Check your loved one's vital signs. Locate them with GPS if they wander off. Get healthy eating plans at the touch of a button. Or connect with caregiver support groups and online communities. Use apps to streamline your tasks so you can get a break and take a few minutes to recharge your own batteries.

Not all superheroes wear capes. You are rising to the demands and challenges of the caregiver role every day. Take advantage of tools that can help you stay on top of it all and help you restore some balance to your life.

During National Family Caregivers Month we want family caregivers to use new caregiving tools to make their lives a bit easier.

| 1 1/4 c. graham cracker crumbs | 1/2 c. cold milk |
| 1/4 c. butter, melted | 1-15oz. can pumpkin |
| 3/4 c. flaked coconut, divided | 1 tsp. pumpkin pie spice |
| 1-3.4oz. package vanilla instant pudding | 2 c. thawed whipped topping, divided |

Heat oven to 350°. Mix graham cracker crumbs, butter and 1/2 c. coconut; press into bottom and up sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Bake 8-10 mins. Or until lightly browned; cool completely.

Beat pudding mix, milk, pumpkin, and spice with a whisk for 2 mins. Stir in 1 c. whipped topping. Pour into crust; top with remaining whipped topping. Refrigerate 3 hours or until firm. Meanwhile, toast remaining coconut; cool. Sprinkle toasted coconut over pie just before serving. To toast coconut: Spread coconut in shallow pan. Bake in 350° oven 5-7 mins or until lightly browned, stirring occasionally. Or, spread onto bottom of microwaveable pie plate. Microwave on HIGH 4 mins. or until lightly browned, stirring every 2 mins.
