@Bocoseniors

Bocoseniors

From the desk of our Executive Director Anita Bowen

I said “so long, see ya, later... and thank you for everything” to my best friend since 4th grade earlier this fall. She battled Cancer for the last few years and lived her life to the fullest until the very end. This isn't a column about sorrow though, this is about what my friend left with me that I would also like to pass on to you, my BCSSI friends. After she passed, her family found this quote in her phone:

“Always try to find the joy in a situation. If you can't find it, be the joy.”

This is what my friend, Chris exemplified, and I have been trying to keep at the forefront of my mind each day. There will certainly be hard days and I know that 2021 has still been very challenging for all of us. But what if we all did try to bring the joy to these challenging situations. Would you (and I) be brightening the corner where we are? We don't need to worry about what anyone else is doing in these situations, but we can control our own response.

At BCSSI, our team of 35 individuals works diligently each weekday to brighten the lives of our customers, and we love hearing from you about how we've done that. Thank you to those of you who take the time each month to let us know how our transportation, in-home services and/or our activities and programs are making a positive impact and helping you live your best life. Truly, your comments and feedback encourage us and help us to get better all the time.

As we enter the final two months of 2021, the BCSSI calendar is packed full of ways that I hope we can bring a little joy your way. Just a reminder that, especially during the holiday season, our programs and activities fill up quickly, so we encourage you to call and sign up early. Along those same lines, please remember to cancel if your plans change because someone else may be waiting on the cancellation list to take your place. This might be a good time to consider inviting someone new to join you at a craft/art class, caregiver support group, van/bus trip or anything else happening at BCSSI. Get all the details at our web site www.booneseniors.org and be sure to follow us on social media (Facebook, Instagram and Twitter) to get the most up-to-date scoop!

I look forward to celebrating the season with you in the next several weeks. I must tell you that one of the very best places to shop for any special gifts for family and/or friends is at the BCSSI Holiday Silent Auction which will be held in our Lebanon Community Room starting November 12th and going through November 18th. We will even have Saturday hours from 9 – 11 a.m. on November 13th and the final shopping hours will end at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, November 18th. All proceeds support the mission of BCSSI so come early and often to bid...just don't outbid ME!

May your holidays be filled with blessings
~Until Next Time,

Anita

Thank you to this group of volunteers from the United Way of Central Indiana for making senior care kits that were delivered throughout our community and at Senior Expo!

Classy Crafters recently made beautiful fall wreaths with Barb Carrell, Director of Volunteers. For information on our November and December crafts turn to page 8. Crafts are also offered in Zionsville each month. Details on page 10.

Lunch & Learn on the Road traveled to Louisville on a beautiful fall day and enjoyed lunch while cruising on the river. Thank you Rose Senior Living - Carmel for sponsoring the Saturday adventure! Watch for details in the next Senior Sounds about our 2022 schedule!!!

Lunch & Learn was all about fall fashions from our friends at Maurices in Lebanon. Thank you Grand Brook Memory Care for a great lunch! Special thanks to our models Shirley Hester, Betty Henry and Diane Miller.

Congratulations to Anita Padgett on her recent retirement. "It has been a real pleasure to work at BCSSI, so satisfying to really help people, and so nice to be really be appreciated. A feel good experience!"

The Reverse Gift List from Today's Caregiver

It's called the "Reverse Gift List" game. It's easy and fun for the entire family. Here's how it's played. The only things you will need are a pencil, paper and a little faith.

Ready? Okay, let's start playing. Make two columns on a fresh piece of paper (or computer screen). Entitle the first column "People I trust" and title the second column "Things they can do". (Don't race ahead or you'll take all the fun out of it). In the "People." column, list all the people who you think would do any little thing for you. And in the "Things" column, make a list of simple tasks, which would help you and your loved one. Then match up the task to person and ask for your holiday gifts. Allow me to show you an example.

People: Marnie (neighbor), Linda (sister), Amy (friend), Melissa (cousin), Phyllis (neighbor), Mary (Co-worker)

List of things:

- Cook dinner for us once a month.
- Pick up groceries twice a month.
- Watch dad for two hours on a weekend.
- Come over for one night to talk.
- Make calls to the insurance company.

Now, when people ask what they can do (or even if they don't), you are ready with bite-sized manageable tasks which will help you and make them feel good for being able to be of some help. The most astounding thing about this game is that once you become a good player, you can accumulate a total of an entire days worth of respite and support each and every week (an hour at a time).

Remember, respite can be achieved on a daily basis with the smallest of kindnesses. And, respite does not have to be found outside of the home or take the entire day. Having someone watch your loved one for a few hours while you luxuriate in a long hot bubble bath counts, too.

The cost to play our new game is minimal and the winnings great. No money down and tremendous reduction in stress, strain and depression. So, don't delay and join the millions of caregivers who have learned how to give better care for their loved one and themselves by playing our fun new game "The Reverse Gift List. A great game to play in any season. (And nobody ever turns you down when you ask him or her to play. (Better than Parcheesi!)(No batteries required).

#CaregiverAnd

#NationalFamilyCaregiversMonth is held each November and honors all of you dedicated to providing care for your loved ones. Visit CaregiverAction.org/CaregiverAnd to learn more.

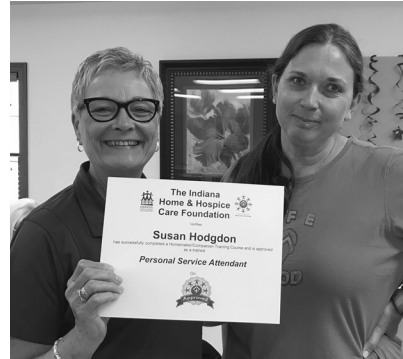

Caregiver Action Network chooses the theme for NFC Month annually and spearheads celebration of NFC Month nationally. This year's theme is #CaregiverAnd. #CaregiverAnd encourages you, the family caregiver, to celebrate the passions and identities that help make you who you are—outside of caregiving. Far too often your role as a family caregiver overshadows your identity and emphasizes the care you provide for your loved one. Being a family caregiver is incredibly important, but it is critical not to lose sight of who you are. Your sense of self makes your life complete. This is an essential component of self-care that can ultimately prevent caregiver burnout and depression. #CaregiverAnd shifts that focus, by highlighting the other roles, activities, and passions that make up your life.

Rice Krispie Snowballs

Recipe From Delish.com

5 Tbsp. butter
 1 (10-oz) bag marshmallows
 1/2 c. smooth peanut butter
 Pinch salt

6 c. Rice Krispies cereal
 30 Reese's minis
 1 1/2 c. white chocolate chips
 Sprinkles

Melt butter in a large pot over medium-low heat. Add marshmallows and peanut butter. Stir until melted. Remove from heat and stir in Rice Krispies. Let cool slightly. Line a baking sheet with parchment. Flatten a tablespoon of cereal mixture, add a mini Reese's to the middle and roll into a ball. Continue with the rest of the cereal mixture and Reese's. Melt white chocolate and dip your snowballs. Sprinkle with sprinkles and refrigerate for 20 mins. or until chocolate is set.
