From the desk of our Executive Director Anita Bowen

I wasn't having the best of days. It was one of those where even though I was in a fun place with my family, I just felt a little down. I was still trying to be upbeat and wear my smile. I came out of the restroom and a woman stopped me sort of abruptly. She told me that she was a retired teacher and now a professional complimenter. She said that this was the third time she had seen me that day and she went into a very intentional spiel about how awesome I looked – my shirt, my earrings, my hair, the way I was all put together, etc., etc. I thought I had landed in Oz. It felt a little awkward to be standing there listening to her go on about me ... but there was no stopping her! As a matter of fact, she even held up her hand once or twice because I think she was used to people trying to stop the spiel from being completed. I let her finish. I thanked her more than once and told her how she had made my day. I couldn't stop thinking about how she had really had an impact on me, and that her timing was perfect.

As I reflected on this "job" that she had taken on with such pride, I was boldly reminded how much our words matter and how much even a little compliment can go a long way, especially on those down days. I took a renewed interest in trying to be more focused on this myself. I was so intrigued by this woman's over-the-top complimentary speech that I even Googled the term "Professional Complimenter" and got all kinds of examples of things to say to lift others up – just in case you want to look for some new things, too!

I walked away from that encounter with this amazing, retired individual who was still living her best life working in a public service position feeling like a million bucks! What a difference a minute had made. I certainly left feeling better than when I came in. I hope that's the way you feel when you come and go from BCSSI. Our goal with programs and services is to add value and positivity to your life. If we are not doing that, please tell us how we can change. You should always be guaranteed smiles from the BCSSI team and an experience that leaves you feeling good. And, since compliments are free, I hope you gather some of those up when you visit us in Lebanon or Zionsville – or, when we're in your home or you are riding in one of our vans or buses!

We recently conducted a phone survey to see how our customers feel about us. If you didn't get a chance to share your opinion, please give us a call and we'd love to chat. Every opinion matters. We have many wonderful programs coming up this summer and we continue to ask for your RSVP so that we are adequately prepared for all. I would challenge you to try something new with us this season and to step up your game when it comes to lifting others up.

~Until Next Time, Anita

Meet Our Staff... Jenny Lemen

Jenny Lemen is one of the most recognized faces and voices at BCSSI. If you walk into our office or you call on the phone, you are more than likely going to be greeted by Jenny at our front desk lobby. Jenny started with BCSSI in 2013 and is our Administrative Assistant. She answers the phone, assists clients who come into the building and directs them to the right person or information. She also helps with our special events and activities, the coordination of the Senior Sounds newsletter, facility rental and personal equipment use.

Jenny is married and has two kids who are almost grown. She also has a rescue pup named "Beaux" who is considered part of their family. Before coming to BCSSI, she was originally a Middle School English teacher. She then decided to stay home with her kids and when they got a little older she went to work part time as both a substitute teacher and teacher's aid. Jenny enjoys reading, riding her bike and hiking with her family. When asked what makes BCSSI special she commented: "Everyone here cares so much about our clients- we all want to help! It's such an awesome place to work".

BCSSI Spotlight
Paul Mohler
BCSSI Volunteer &
Foundation Board Member

How did you get involved/learn about BCSSI?

I've known about BCSSI for several years as we are good friends with Sue Ritz (former Executive Director), but I didn't get involved until we started using the services for my mom. By then, Anita Bowen the current Executive Director, who was a neighbor when we lived in Lebanon, had taken the position after Sue's Retirement.

How many years have you volunteered?

I've been on the Foundation Board for four years.

How many years have you lived in Boone County?

I've lived in Boone County 40 years.

What makes Boone County special?

I was a 10-year 4-H member, so I really was attracted to the great 4-H program in Boone County. I volunteered with Shooting Sports and was Superintendent for the Swine Program for decades.

Family:

My wife, Lisa, is a retired teacher. Our older son, Blake, and his wife live in Nashville, Tenn., and are expecting their first baby in July. Our younger son, Scott, lives in Los Angeles.

Profession:

I am a retired firefighter and was with Pike Township Fire Department for 30 years. When I'm not fly-fishing, I'm working at Dull's Tree Farm.

Hobbies:

I enjoy fly-fishing and spend a month in Montana each year where I fish every day.

Something unique:

While firefighting, I always had a side gig. I had a woodworking business, ran my own custom combine operation and was an excavating contractor. I also built our current home.

What makes BCSSI unique/what should others know about BCSSI?

BCSSI gives the community and its residents a great hand-up instead of a hand-out.

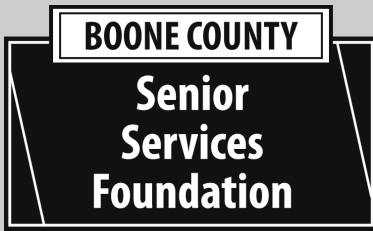

Get fresh fruits and vegetables at your local farmers market! Seniors in Central Indiana can apply for checks to redeem at state-approved farmers markets in the CICOA service area, like Becky's Market in Lebanon and the Whitestown Farmers' Market. For an application you can come to BCSSI or go to: <https://cicoa.org/.../senior-meals.../farmers-market-checks/>

Program Information:

Caramel Pecan Buns

Recipe Submitted By: Dennis Carrell

1 can Pillsbury Grands refrigerated cinnamon rolls
2 Tbsp. butter

1 c. chopped pecans
1/4 c. packed brown sugar

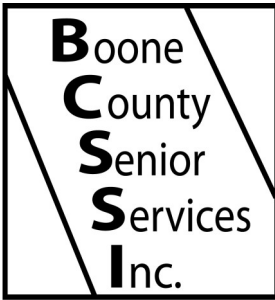

Bake cinnamon rolls as directed on package. Reserve icing. Melt butter in 10" skillet over medium heat; add pecans. Cook, stirring constantly 2-3 minutes or until butter just starts to brown. Add brown sugar. Cook, stirring constantly until the sugar melts and bubbles, about 2 mins. Spoon over buns when they are hot out of the oven. Remove cover from icing. Microwave on medium power 5-10 seconds or until thin enough to drizzle. Drizzle over warm buns. Serve warm. Tip: Pecans can burn easily and need to be closely watched as they cook.
